TIME TO THINK

It will not be long before the legislature will begin the second half of its bifurcated session, and it is high time that people begin to give some study regarding the many taxation proposals which will be acted upon at that time.

YOUR VIEWS

The suggestion is made so that if certain proposed taxes seem to solve our muddled and muddled financial problems, or if on the other hand, they appear to you as chaotic and objectionable, you should be in a position to make your conclusions known to your representative, who, in this instance is T. H. DeLap. With Mr. DeLap's unassailable reputation for fairness I am sure that he will listen with a receptive ear.

Some people, or rather organizations, have conveyed their ideas to him regarding pending legislation, notably the sportsmen. It is more vital that those who will be affected by the new laws should betray enough interest in their own pocketbooks to indicate their feelings.

SOME ARE OBNOXIOUS

I am expressing only a personal view when I make the statement that certain of the proposed taxes, fathered by Governor Merriam, are about as popular with me as would be a perturbed kitty in my bedroom. I do not like the idea of the State taking over all the roads and grabbing all the millions of dollars in personal property taxes on automobiles.

IGNORES SENTIMENT

True, Mr. Merriam contends that the State can build and maintain roads cheaper than does the county. That is a moot or debatable question. Personally I do not believe it, and even were it

Honor Student
Originator Of Fantastic Plot

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 20.—UP—A fantastic kidnapping plot in which Allen E. Bomberger, 21, honor student and assistant instructor at Wabash college, "abducted" himself and tried to get $50,000 ransom from his father was revealed today by Department of Justice agents here.

A signed confession was obtained from the youth when his signature was found to correspond with writing on two ransom notes mailed to his father, Louden L. Bomberger, Hammond lawyer.

The confession and notes were presented as evidence when Bomberger was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Howard S. Young, late today and bound over by the Federal grand jury, March 5.

He was released under $25,000 bond on charges of using the mails in an attempt to extort.

Bomberger was held in high esteem at Wabash college where he was a brilliant Phi Beta Kappa and assistant instructor in Romance languages.

Services Set
For T. Hines

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 on Saturday from the Wilson and Kratz chapel, with interment in Sunset Mausoleum for the late Thomas Hines, 74-year-old retired Standard Oil employee who died at a local hospital Tuesday night.

Deceased had lived here for the past 27 years and had served 25 years as an employee at the Standard Oil refinery. He was a native of Michigan.

Prominent in club and lodge activities, Hines had served as chief of Alpha lodge of Masons for many years. He was also a member of the Scottish Rite and of the Shrine of Oakland. Eclipsed lodge of Odd Fellows and Oneida tribe of Red Men.

In Richmond he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Merriam at 118 Fifth street. Hines was unmarried.

Mellon Wealth Is Set At $97,000,000

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 20.—UP—The long hidden personal wealth of Andrew W. Mellon was revealed today as more than $97,000,000, not including the other millions which he holds in such huge corporations as the Aluminum Company of America and the Gulf Refining Company.

That figure—exactly $97,000,005.49 as of December 31, 1931, the date of the stock market crash of 1929 which sent many millionaires into near poverty—was disclosed by Mellon's confidential secretary as he testified at the hearing by which the Federal government seeks to collect an additional $3,957,103 on Mellon's 1931 income.

PERSONAL WEALTH
The money represents only the personal wealth of the man who was Secretary of the Treasury during the "boom" years and the market crash. It is the money he can control directly, such as the cash, the bank accounts, the furniture and the real estate of the average citizen, whose per capita wealth in 1931 was computed at $225.90.

Controversy
Stirs Labor
Union Meet

Organized labor of Contra Costa county last night discussed for more than five hours over what should be done about the appointment of Otto Lovendick as social service bureau director.

With the close of the meeting, shortly before one o'clock this morning, belief was expressed by numerous union members present that the whole matter should be dropped, as the controversy was "getting them nowhere and was losing friends for labor." However, no definite action was taken and as this is written the entire matter is still "up in the air" with organized labor more or less divided upon the proposition.

Supervisor J. N. Long appeared before the meeting and he and E. L. Orr, president of the labor council engaged in a heated argument. Long accused Orr of making a dickler with Violet Orr, asking that if the Communists run a candidate for school trustee this year, the Communist should not be named Orr as he, E. L. Orr, planned to be a candidate.

Orr in turn, accused Long of having promised the Social Service position to a Martinez business man and again to a Richmond businessman last July, even before Mrs. Ruth McCord had resigned. Long challenged Orr to prove this statement, offering to bet him any sum of money that the statement was untrue. Orr (Continued on Page 5)

Legion Members Entertain For Livermore Vets

Richmond Post of the American Legion last night held its annual entertainment for veterans at the Livermore hospital.

A party of local Legion and Auxiliary members attended the affair, headed by Commander L. O. Spiras.

Several acts of entertainment, arranged by E. C. Ribbins were presented for the enjoyment of the veterans. An orchestra, composed of Donald Crisler, Clarence Jarman, Howard Row, Errol Lang, Russ Russell, Jack Sinnett, Ed Hill, Ralph O'Connor, Carl Richards and Leo DeMers, played several selections and Ralph McKay gave a comedy skit. Two boxing matches were staged under the direction of J. J. Kennedy.

Knights Of Pythias

The Knight rank was conferred on a candidate last evening by Richmond lodge No. 13, Knights of Pythias at a meeting held in the Brotherhood hall.

W. C. Richards presided over the meeting, which was followed by a banquet served by J. P. Rihn and R. J. Davies.

MURDER CASE TO JURY TODAY
REVOLVING FUND BAN ASKED

ROAD PLAN OPPOSED BY GRAND JURY

MARTINEZ, Feb. 20.—UP—The grand jury went on record today as being opposed to the continuance of the county school department revolving fund that was created during the regime of the late William H. Henton.

The scandal that was unearthed by a former grand jury in connection with the misappropriation and purchase of over $10,000 of the fund that resulted in Henton, then county superintendent, taking his life, the conviction of the storekeeper, E. L. Orent, and his being sentenced to San Quentin, the conviction of Wells Wales, Spalding company salesman, and his serving time in the county jail, rocked Contra Costa to its foundation.

ONLY TO DISTRIBUTE

Investigation by the present grand jury showed that the revolving fund is still in existence, and contains about $22,000. The judicial body today recommended to the supervisors, the auditor and county superintendent of schools that the fund be abolished, and the money be returned to the different districts of the county, from which it was originally taken when the fund was created.

VOICE STRONG OPPOSITION

An extended discussion on the attempt of Governor Merriam to have the legal title take the building and maintenance of county roads out of the hands of the supervisors of the counties of California, and throw them into the state system, took place in connection with this scheme the state would retain all the money now allocated to counties, and Contra Costa would

TUESON, Ariz., Feb. 20.—UP—Herbert Hoover, commenting on the U. S. Supreme court's gold decision, said it amounted to re-establishment of the gold standard in the United States to "force confidence in our currency."

The nation, only having ex-President Hoover's declaration that "apparently all members of the cabinet have been re-elected, unconsciously a repudiation of the covenant of its own hands."

LOOK FORWARD

He asserted the decision of the majority that "the citizen has a remedy," however, would have "long moral consequences," and urged the people of America to look forward.

"The need and the opportunity now," he said in a formal statement, "is to restore confidence in the dollar. All threat, actual or potential of further devaluation should now be removed."

DENOUNCES DELAY

Mr. Hoover urged that the only way to do this was to make the dollar immediately "convertible at the present 35 cents of gold, making it payable in gold bullion." The modern of specie payment.

Mrs. R. Hayes of the SERA was also a speaker at the meeting. She discussed social service work.

R. L. Wharton was chairman of the day.

MAID WILL BE CENTER OF BATTLE

SAN JOSE, Feb. 20.—UP—Sensational indications of prosecution charges to be made in the second trial of David Lamson for the ascertained murder of his wife, Alene Thorpe Lamson, crept into the record today as attorneys questioned prospective jurors.

Deputy District Attorney Alfred Lindsay galvanized defense counsel into protesting a motion, when he asked Mrs. Carrie Hayes whether she knew "the nutcase" who was in the Lamson home May 30, 1933.

MYSTERY WITNESS

The nutcase, declares Robert Sorenson, attractive "mystery" witness of the case, previously had been understood to have been visiting her mother in San Jose that day.

Memorial Day, 1933, dark haired Mrs. Lamson was found dead in the Lamson's Stanford University home, her body gruesomely draped over a bathtub, her head battered, blood on the floor, walls, and ceiling of the bath room.

CALLED AS WITNESS

The nursemaid, prosecution attorneys have announced, will be called as a witness in Lamson's retrial. After spending a year in San Quentin prison's death row, waiting to be hanged under his conviction of the murder charge, Lamson won a second trial by virtue of a Supreme court decision on his appeal.

Damage Suit Is Outgrowth Of Local Collision

MARTINEZ, Feb. 20.—UP—As the sequel to an automobile collision in Richmond last November, suit for $5,357.91 damages today was filed in superior court here by R. O. Wesley and Mary L. Wesley, a widow, H. J. Adolf and H. J. Adolf.

The plaintiffs claim that the defendants were responsible for a collision November 12, 1931, at the intersection of Thirty-eighth street and Roosevelt avenue in Richmond. It was claimed that Mrs. Wesley suffered injury to her ribs, head and eyes and $5,000 judgment was awarded. The remainder of the suit is for damages to their automobile and medical costs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—UP—The White House cracked tonight over rebellious Democrats as the Administration sought to whip into a line sufficient votes to avert the unbridled wage amendment to the 1938-39, 40 works bill in the Senate tomorrow.

End of another day of bitter debate, which brought Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson into the light in defiance of the Administration, found both factions exhausted of victory.

DEFEAT PREDICTED

Senator Pat McCarran, D., Nevada, bitter-haired author of the amendment which opponents said would wreck the world relief program, said:

"It is a just and sane amendment. I believe it will carry."

Party leaders who declined to be quoted directly indicated they had sufficient votes to defeat it.

PAY WAGE RATES

As drafted the amendment would compel the government to pay prevailing wage rates on construction projects undertaken under the pending bill. The rates, however, would be set at the level existing when the program is initiated.

E. C. Cain, of Oakland, Boy Scout field executive, last night addressed the session of the Boy Scout Roundtable Conference at the dinner meeting of the group held at Hotel Carquinez.

The speaker told of field service for Scout leaders, declaring that it is not necessary for Scout officials to be experts in national history but that personal experience in wonderful would develop a desire and understanding among Scouts.

Drivers Fined
In E. C. Court

Justices of the Peace John Moore of Richmond last night occupied the bench at the El Cerrito traffic court in the absence of Police Judge A. G. Thompson, who has been ill for some time.

More than 25 persons charged with violation of traffic ordinances, ranging from failure to observe stop signals—reckless driving—appeared before Judge Moore and were fined amounts ranging from $2 to $200.

Local Schools To Be Closed Friday

Richmond schools will observe the anniversary of the birth of George Washington Friday with a holiday. All schools in the city will be closed for the day.

Patriotic programs are planned at various schools today.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 20.—"We are only trying to wipe out the seven years' of suffering that Minnie Zimmerman has already had."

Thus spoke Tom Carlson in his plea for the defense before a jury in Judge Thomas Johnston's court this afternoon.

SUFFERED ENOUGH

"We, the defense counsel, believe only in our client. We believe that she has already suffered enough punishment for her inadvertent killing. We believe that she is innocent of wrongdoing and that she should be released to live down her unhappiness."

"She has already had enough punishment," he pleaded with the jury in the case of Mrs. Minnie Zimmerman on trial for the murder of her husband, Wesley Zimmerman. "She has many good friends who are willing to take her in, to protect her from curiosity seekers, to help her. And that is all we want, to help her forget the past and find happiness away from everything miserable."

"She certainly found enough misery in her seven years of torture with Wesley Zimmerman, her beatings, her physical pain, her mental pain. She has hid in haystacks, beneath a house among spiders, dirt, and cobwebs, she has suffered bestially. Isn't that enough?"

CHARGES NOT PROVED

Court Shocked Over Details Of
'Wife-Swapping'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20.—UP—Bedroom details in the lives of Walter W. Emerson and Marion Sewell, prominent movie colony socialites, engaged in a "quadrangular" divorce trial, brought shocked comments tonight from the lips of Judge Ben Lindsey, presiding jurist and advocate of "companionate marriage."

Mrs. Jane Scholtz Emerson contesting the divorce action brought by her husband, recited calmly the experience of finding Mrs. Sewell, formerly Leah Clappitt in bed with Emerson.

"Wasn't that the time Mrs. Sewell found you in bed with Mr. Sewell?" an attorney asked.

"No, I was telling of seeing Mrs. Sewell in bed with Mr. Emerson," Mrs. Emerson said.

"Someone always seems to be in bed with someone in this testimony," Judge Lindsey interrupted.

Mrs. Emerson admitted there were several incidents of association between herself and Sewell at a fashionable Malibu Beach party. It was at this party that Sewell and Emerson "swapped wives" according to W. I. Gilbert, Emerson's attorney.

COLLEGE PUGS IN SHAPE FOR FISTIC BOUTS

BERKELEY, Feb. 20.—California boxers met the undefeated U.S. F. variety Thursday night at California gymnasium in the first intercollegiate bouts staged for the local ring this season.

Toughest assignment of the evening is faced by Jim Castle, the Bears' intercollegiate heavyweight champion, who meets 250-pound "Tiny" Cervelli, runner-up in the recent P. A. tournament, in the feature event of the evening. Castle, although about 55 pounds lighter than his opponent, has developed a terrific right hand, and last week demonstrated his new-found punching power in knocking out Ralph McMichael, Stanford heavyweight.

Another outstanding bout should be between Andy Wallstrom, of the Bears, and Manuel Gomez, junior P. A. champion in 1934. Both are welterweights. Wallstrom has been in the ring twice, scoring knockouts both times. He knocked out Bill Sullivan, of Stanford, last week in about one minute. Gomez, considerably more experienced than the Bear welter, is expected to give him the strongest opposition he has yet faced.

The U. S. F. squad defeated the strong Cal Aggies squad last week in six straight bouts, forfeiting bouts in two weight classes. The Don squad includes George Paiva, 159 pounder who last week defeated Gil Borba, intercollegiate light-heavyweight champion, despite Borba's weight advantage; Jim Mace, P. A. and Golden Gloves bantam weight runner-up last year; Ray Nesbit, intercollegiate champion at 129 pounds, and Bill Flynn, 169-pounder.

Coach Walter Stone has not yet named his complete California lineup.

Jurors Have Colds; Trial Is Delayed

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—UP—A recess to Monday to permit three defendants to recover from colds was granted today in the trial of 15 Communists on criminal syndicalism charges.

Before the halt, Sam Darcy, Communist candidate for governor last year, testified at length the party did not aim to overthrow the government by force of arms, as charged in the indictments.

CAR IS STOLEN

Richmond police last night broadcast warning to police of the State to be on the lookout for a machine stolen here late last evening. The car is a 1928 Chevrolet sedan, license No. 9-D-133. The machine was reported stolen by Walter Patterson, 421 Washington avenue.

Tax On Chain Stores Asked By Phelan Club

The Phelan Democratic Club last night went on record for petitioning the State Senate and Assembly and Congressmen and Senators from California to sponsor a progressive chain store tax for California.

The club members declared that the tax would result in revenues of more than $7,500,000 for the State of California, and would be of great benefit and aid to Governor Merriam's tax program.

Hold-Out Decides To Sign Contract

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—UP—Clarence Mitchell, left-handed San Francisco Mission's spitball pitcher, gave up his original plan of holding out for a higher salary and signed his 1935 contract here today.

Hon. Thurston, also a Mission pitcher last season, wired President Joe Bearwald today he would sign if a free agent clause was included in his contract.

CITY PENSION PLAN STUDIED BY OFFICIALS

Voters of the city may soon be asked to pass on a retirement plan for city policemen and firemen, it was learned yesterday. Police and fire officials, city officers and others have been studying the plan, which will be patterned after the Berkeley and Pasadena plans, for some time.

The retirement proposal is something in the order of group insurance, which many large corporations have aided employees in obtaining. Under it, policemen and firemen would pay half of the cost and the city the other half. It is estimated it would cost the city about $22,000 a year for the first eight years of the plan and after that date the annual cost would be reduced to about $8,000 or $10,000 a year.

An insurance actuary who has worked on similar plans in many cities is now at work assembling cost figures which have been presented to the police and fire departments and to the city council. A committee meeting of the council, with city employees interested was held recently and the plan was outlined.

Under the proposal, a policeman or fireman would be retired on half pay when he reaches 60 years. The amount each individual would pay into the fund would depend upon the years of service, his age and similar factors necessary to create a sinking fund before he reaches retirement age.

Upon the death of a retired policeman or fireman, his widow would receive two thirds of the half pay he had received after retirement. Thus the age of the wife of each individual also is to be figured in computing the amount he would be required to pay into the fund.

Slaying Due To Woman's Wish To Be U. S. Citizen

FRESNO, Feb. 20.—UP—Mrs. Elizabeth Avedisian's burning wish to attend Americanization school to become a citizen may have been the cause of her brutal death, authorities theorized today.

Harold, her 13-year old son, revealed his father, Kachadour Avedisian, and his mother had quarreled over her desire to attend the classes in Fowler at night. He said they were quarreling when he and his two sisters went off to school yesterday morning.

The husband, a Fowler rancher, was in jail in what his neighbors described as a "hysterical state." He insisted he could remember nothing of a dispute, they said.

An autopsy revealed 30 knife wounds on the woman's body and a footprint, indicating her slayer had jumped on her.

Speaking of Sports

STOCKTON, Feb. 20.—The College of the Pacific Tigers will endeavor to hurdle the last obstacle which keeps them from the Far Western Conference basketball championship when they tangle with the Fresno State Bulldogs in two contests this weekend, February 22 and 23, at Fresno.

The only hitch to the Bengals' plans lies in Fresno's hopes, the Rabin City men occupying the same place as the Stockton team. Each team has won six and lost two in Conference play. They both close the season against each other.

Last week's double victory over the Aggies has put the Tigers on a keen edge for the Fresno series. The Thursday night game proved nothing more than a good romp for Pacific, but the Saturday night contest almost proved the undoing of the Apitz men. With his Bernie Dobbas plunking the buckets in regularly the Aggie men crept to within 2 points of the Bengal lead near the end of the contest. A spurt on the part of the leaders put them out in front to the score of 41-37. Thompson and Russell were high point men for Pacific with 12 and 9, respectively.

The Pacific-Fresno series promises to be one of the hardest fought in Conference play. Oddly enough, both teams have dropped their two games to the same teams, Chico and San Jose. Both the leaders are high scoring outfits, regularly running up scores over 35 points.

Pacific adherents are hoping for the return to form of Red Singleton, gangling Petaluma boy who has played such good ball at center. He has been bothered with a bruised hip. Bainbridge will probably start for him. The other posts will find: Thompson and Hallberg at forwards, Russell and Parsons at guards, and Bainbridge at center. Roger Jacoby, long shot artist of the Tigers, will probably see lots of action.

Lawyers View With Askance Bar Repeal Act

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—UP—Interests of the State and the people come before interests of lawyers, the State Bar Association asserted today as it shook its head at a legislative proposal for a "straw vote" among attorneys to find if they favored bar act repeal.

"The act was not created solely for the legal profession," declared the Association in answer to the vote suggestion of Assemblyman James V. Brennan, San Francisco, chairman of a committee investigating the bar group.

MANY DEAD AS FLU EPIDEMIC SWEEPS SPAIN

MADRID, Feb. 20.—UP—Madrid tonight was in the grip of one of the worst influenza epidemics since the World War, with thousands ill and hundreds dying.

President Niceto Alcala Zamora and two daughters were among those stricken.

The United Press checked 101 funerals up to 2 P. M. today at a single cemetery in the Spanish capital.

SPREADS SWIFTLY

The epidemic spread swiftly through the provinces, as well, and 20 percent of the population of Zaragoza was reported affected, with lesser percentages in other cities.

The health commissioner of Zaragoza announced that more than 100 persons had died during the past week of this illness. The newspaper La Nacion claimed that 65 percent of Madrid's population was affected.

MANY STRICKEN

Members of President Zamora's family stricken included not only his daughters, according to one report, but also his wife and mother-in-law, all in bed with the dread malady.

Scores of actors and actresses were confined to their beds so at least one show had to close until the star actress could recover sufficiently to go on.

MEDICINE SOLD

Newspaper staffs were sharply reduced, reporters and copy readers being among the victims.

Pharmacies reported heavy sale of medicines, while large quantities of brandy and whisky were being sold to hundreds who relied on this "kill or cure" remedy for the influenza—a hangover from the emergency treatment sometimes resorted to during the World War, when the influenza epidemic swept many countries, including the United States.

DUTCHMAN IS FAVORED TO WIN BIG BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—UP—After a short rest yesterday to avert any possibility of "stale-matting," young Corbett III worked five fast rounds with sparring partners today as he wound up training for his rematch with Bep Van Klaveren, Dutch amateur heavyweight.

The "Dutch Windmill," according to those who have attended his workouts, is in far better condition than when he dropped a close decision to Corbett in their first match here. Many local fans are picking him to defeat the Fresno southpaw Friday.

Paul Winsor, veteran manager and an early associate of Jack Dempsey, watched Van Klaveren in training today and said the Dutchman was "a chub to win the return engagement."

"Corbett is slipping," Winsor said. "The end of the trail isn't far away for him. The Corbett chin has been dented ever since Jimmy McLarnin worked out on it."

Baroness Buried Unwept, Unhonored

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—UP—The mutilated body of the late Baroness Penita von Berg, beheaded as a spy against the fatherland, was buried without ceremony in fashionable Kaiser Wilhelm memorial church cemetery today.

The beautiful baroness, whose head thumped from the block at dawn Monday, went to her nameless grave without funeral music, without religious rites, without a single word of farewell eulogy from clergymen or friends.

Reports abroad that two more spies, men, are in the death house awaiting beheading, were denied at the ministry of justice.

true I would still be against the plan. One thing I have noticed during residence in a number of counties of this State is that the Highway Department is very autocratic in its manner and methods and invariably follows its own course, despite the expressed wishes of any community.

A HUMAN BOND

Our county highway systems, under the jurisdiction of our supervisors, are close links between those officials and their constituents in a very human way. A supervisor is a sort of a father to the people of his district and he is in a position to be helpful to a great many people by putting them to work on the roads, and without any sacrifice in efficiency or to the detriment of the road system.

NUISANCE TAXES

The proposed tax on phone and gas and light bills does not strike any responsive chord within me. The suggestion leaves me not stone cold, but with an eagerness to go forth and do battle against their imposition. The same can be said with equal truth regarding the scheme to levy another cent tax on gasoline. Real estate has been practically confiscated through excessive taxation and therefore I am against the idea of increasing the tax on the transfer of realty.

THE SOLUTION

I appreciate the fact that some canny lad is going to ask me, now that I have killed off these sources of revenue, where I am going to get the money to keep the State going?

The solution is very easy, if the legislature would only adopt it. Here is my plan: eliminate expenditures for new roads for say five years, restricting work to maintenance and the construction of the approaches to the transbay bridges. The sum of approximately $50,000,000 a year would thus be provided, which would wipe out the present deficit and add embonpoint to the attenuated general fund, out of which State expenses are paid.

WHAT A CHANCE!

Will it be done? The answer is no. The automobile clubs will fight such a proposal bitterly and to the last ditch. The men at their head are wealthy and more taxes mean but little to them. With those of limited income and who have been trying desperately to "render unto Caesar" his tax tithes, it is an entirely different story. The taxing of the light, gas and phone bills is an exacting people generally are not able to bear and it should not be permitted. It could be avoided very easily in the way I have suggested, but too powerful influences exist to permit it to be done. So in the final analysis, I presume we will accept the new burdens, although under protest, but I have had the satisfaction of getting the suggestion out of my system even though I accomplish nothing else.

EXTENSION OF NRA ASKED BY MR. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—UP

President Roosevelt asked Congress today to extend the National Industrial Recovery Act two years more, protecting employee bargaining rights and eliminating jail sentences for violators.

The President's message, read here today, is an investigation of NRA practices. Having hundreds of letters and telegrams from business men and organizations urging passage of the Nye-McCarran resolution, the Senate Finance Committee voted to report the resolution favorably.

PROBE ASKED

Chairman Pat Harrison, D., Miss., of the Finance Committee, thought the investigation would be a good thing, coinciding with the drive to renew the act.

"In meeting criticism of the operation of the present act," he said, "the Congress may also provide for fuller opportunity for persons affected to be heard, to have notice of orders or actions which may affect their private interests, and to provide the means for maintaining the codes and their administration."

BLUE EAGLE HIT

He said he would submit Mr. Roosevelt's suggested amendments to the committee soon, and predicted general approval for them. Congressional comment generally was favorable, but Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., was a noteworthy exception. He said the Blue Eagle was "rapidly becoming a Soviet culture."

"I challenge the statement made by the President that the NRA has put 4,000,000 men back to work," Fish said. "The NRA has all but strangled the small businessman. The NRA is backed by force, coercion and spies."

POINTS TOLD

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations were very much along the lines predicted. He suggested:

- 1.—Extension for two years.
- 2.—Clarification of the policy and standards for administration of the act.
- 3.—Encouragement of voluntary submission of codes, but retention of governmental power to impose them if an industry fails to agree within itself.

SERA Assistants For Major Hill Are Appointed

Eleven assistants have been named by the SERA to City Recreation Director Ivan Hill. It was announced yesterday.

Assistant directors included in the list for temporary positions are: Harold Anderson, assisting in night gym work; Seth G. Tennis and Dave Fritzler, Pullman playground; Hugh Herin, Woodrow Wilson playground and swimming projects; Gaston Mylie, Washington playground and baseball activities; Mrs. Dora Hewitt, Fairmont playground; Melvin Avila, Harding playground and tennis tournaments; Bert Childs, night gym work; Mrs. Doris Theobald, Lincoln playground and girls' activities; Gertrude Heise, women's gym activities, and Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson, Grant playground.

ROAD PLAN OPPOSED BY GRAND JURY

be adversely affected to the extent of about $20,000.

The consensus of opinion of the grand jurors, that the closer the administration of government is kept to the people, the better off are the people.

In this connection, a resolution was adopted protesting any such action by the legislature, and calling on Senator W. R. Sharkey and Assemblyman T. H. Delap, representatives from this county, to oppose such a plan, as inimical to the best interests of Contra Costa.

Another important meeting of a committee of the grand jury is to be held today, and it is expected that the proposed investigation is concluded a recommendation will be made.

ADMIT REFERRED TO

It had been confidently expected that the special audit on the books of the Welfare Department would be presented in report form to the body, but there were so many matters taken up and discussed today that the subject was not mentioned, except incidentally, by Grand Juror Olsen, who said that the report disclosed that the conduct of the department under Mrs. McLeod had been very lax, as proven by the fact that she failed to collect thousands of dollars due the county from the State.

SPECIAL NIGHT MEETING

The entire membership meetings of the grand jury are held once a month but it became apparent yesterday through the accumulation of so many matters that needed attention, but could not be even considered that it would be necessary to hold a special session, it was therefore announced by the foreman that some time soon he would call a night session.

SECRECY DISCUSSED

There was much talk on the streets today about the secrecy of the present grand jury in regard to matters that the general public feels it is entitled to have given out. This talk centers chiefly on the recent change in the social welfare department of the county.

It is generally known that Mrs. Ruth McLeod was fired by the supervisors at the demand of the grand jury. Another employee of the department was suspended, as yet no member of the grand jury has been willing to give out any information on the matter.

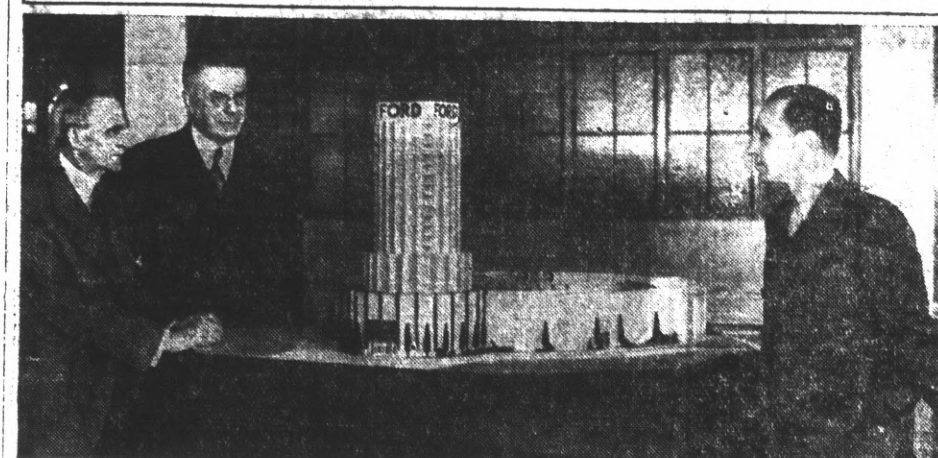

Statements were made today that sometimes secrecy is not the remedy to be applied in certain cases, but publicity is.

DELAPE MAKES TALK

Upon invitation, Assemblyman T. H. Delap appeared before the grand jury and discussed pending legislation affecting Contra Costa county. Relative to the Merriam road plan he said there was much literature in circulation by its proponents, but he had not yet seen any in opposition.

THE FORDS PLAN THEIR SAN DIEGO EXHIBIT

Here are Henry and Edsel Ford getting their first glimpse of a model of the building that will house the Ford Exhibition at the California Pacific International Exposition, at San Diego, Calif. Between them is G. Aubrey Davidson, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Exposition.

Henry Ford will make a personal visit to the West Coast this summer to see the California Pacific International Exposition, which opens May 29th, at San Diego. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, will also visit the exposition some time during the summer, but whether or not circumstances will permit father and son to make the trip at the same time cannot now be determined.

The Chairman of the Board of Directors of the exposition, G. Aubrey Davidson, said, "We hope to make the exposition a definite factor in the encouragement of friendship among the nations. We are inviting the governments of all nations on the Pacific Ocean to participate and, so far, we have had more than a score of acceptances."

The Ford building, cast in modern lines and embracing open-air features permitted by the mild Southern California climate, is to be of permanent construction and is to remain in Balboa Park after the exposition is over.

It will be an immense circular building, fronted by a high tower, built on a promontory skirted on three sides by a deep canyon. The rear of the building will open on a balcony which will afford visitors a beautiful view, with the gleaming Pacific in the distance. Over the terraced slopes of the canyon is to be built one of the most attractive features of the Ford exhibit—the "Roads of the Pacific"—reconstructed replicas of typical roads of the principal countries fronting on the Pacific Ocean.

The visitor approaching the building from the front will see a high tower, its fluted sides resplendent in their whiteness, rising from a base having the appearance of two huge gear-wheels, laid on their sides, one within the other. The base of the tower is 221 feet above the ocean, and the tower itself rises 108 feet. Housed in the base of the tower will be an immense diorama showing the variegated life in the Pacific countries.

Grouped around the walls of the circular entrance to the building will be the pictured story of the production of various kinds of ore, wood, cotton, bauxite, rubber and other raw materials used in the manufacture of the Ford car.

The main part of the building, built of white stucco plaster, will be 340 feet in diameter, its outer wall 40 feet high. Inside against the wall, as a series of exhibits, then, moving toward the center, a broad passageway, and then another series of exhibits arranged in broad semi-circular form. The exhibits and the passageway will be to be roofed over, but, in the center, is a great open court, 180 feet wide, in which all the latest models of Ford and Lincoln cars will be on display, while in a separate location will be a complete exhibit of models of the Ford car, showing the development of the modern automobile.

Entering the great exhibition hall, the visitor will see, to the right, a corridor with exhibits showing the actual manufacture of Ford parts, and in the left corridor exhibits showing body designing and motor assembly, and telling the whole story of the technical development of the Ford car.

The architectural department of the exposition, headed by Richard S. Requa, are the architects and engineers of the building, which was designed by Walter Dorwin Teague of New York City.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The President seems to have worked out a new strategy in sending legislation to Capitol Hill—at least, if the Treasury's Federal Reserve Bank reform bill is a precedent.

Hitherto, when important legislation was sent to Congress, it was definitely tagged a New Deal bill, and all the weight of the President's prestige and approval was thrown behind it.

But the new central bank bill is different. It was merely sent to the chairman of the Senate and House banking committees with word from Roosevelt that it was the work of Treasury and Federal Reserve board authorities. He referred all questions regarding the bill to them.

As to whether this side-stepping of Administration responsibility means the White House is lukewarm; or whether Congress is now coming back into its own as an actual legislative body.

A lot of members whose pride of authorship has been slighted in the past, feel that the latter should be the case.

AFTER-THOUGHT

RFC Chairman Jesse Jones is fond of testifying cartoons of himself on the walls of his office. One of them depicts FERA's Harry Hopkins, then in hand, receiving a large denomination check from Jesse, who is saying:

"Harry, you know how I feel about this."

A caller remarked to Jesse that he had told Hopkins about the cartoon, and the latter had exclaimed: "Why, the son of a gun."

"I'm glad that's all he said." Then, as an after thought he added: "Say, are you sure that's what he said?"

BULLS-EYE

Senator Daniel O. Hastings had a few uncomfortable moments the other day during a hearing on the omnibus social security bill.

The pudgy little Delawarean was sharply interrogating Senator Bob Wagner, author of the measure. Finally, the New Yorker turned on him, inquired:

"Let's just get this straight for the record. Are you for old age pensions?"

Hastings was silent for a moment.

"Would it make any difference in your answers if I said I wasn't?" he asked in reply.

"No it would not," Wagner snapped back, "but we would be able to understand your question a great deal better."

Cairo Club Attaches Are Held For Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—UP

Three Cairo club attaches, Clem Cavali, Joe Vanessi and Sam Erlich, were ordered held for the superior court to face manslaughter charges in the death of Major Charles A. Ross, Presidio army officer, at a preliminary hearing today.

The action came despite stories of Marie Manis, club cigarette girl, and Katherine Hills, the bartender, that the officers in the Ross party were drunk and belligerent. Half of the defendants was ordered doled to $5,000 each.

Rival Chinese Troops Clash

SHANGHAI (Thursday) Feb. 21.—A serious clash between Chinese "preservation troops" and local militia of Lianan Chow, Anhwei province, left more than 100 of the two rival bands dead, according to reports of the China news service today.

The peace preservation force, apparently an offshoot of the armed organizations founded by Nationalist forces, throughout various provinces to combat bandit and Communist troops, was believed to have the support of Japanese saboteurs.

TRAINS LAUGH AT WINTER

Trains come through in any weather, laughing at storms, whistling defiance at rain and sleet. Inside the train, you are warm, dry, and comfortable while thousands of trained men watch day and night to see that you get there swiftly, safely, and on time.

Other highways are often slippery and dangerous in winter. But steel rails are always safe—the smoothest, safest highway in the world. When you travel this winter, try the train. Let the engineer drive you there for 2¢ a mile or less.

BIRTHDAYS OF LOCAL GIRLS CELEBRATED

Twin sisters celebrated their birthdays at a jolly party held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith. The honored guests were Misses Ruth and Dorothy Waugaman, who make their home with the Smiths.

Among those present were the Misses Ruth and Dorothy Waugaman, Josephine McManus, Muriel Bowman, Marjorie Alexander, Ruth Guard, Henrietta Thomas, Mrs. Willard Smith and Messrs. Willard Smith, Blair Spies, Reid Bullock, Roderick McLennan, Steve Buchanan, Cecil Bowman, and Dan McCurdy.

Earlier in the evening the twins were guests of honor at a dinner given by their aunt, Mrs. J. S. Spies, on Bissell avenue, at which time many lovely gifts were presented to the girls. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Waugaman reside in Pennsylvania, and the young ladies have been visiting in Richmond and San Francisco with relatives since their arrival in the State last fall.

MRS. COX IS HONOR GUEST ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Pauline Cox, well known Richmond woman, was the incentive for a surprise birthday party given by Mrs. G. Penning at the Penning home in Mira Vista on Tuesday night. Games were played and prizes were won by Miss Adele George and Mrs. Clark Barger.

At a late hour a birthday dinner was served. Many lovely gifts were presented to the honored guest. Those partaking of Mrs. Penning's hospitality were Mesdames Clara Hornias, Eucella Lane, Loretta Ekstrom, Molly Malik, Dorothy Penning and L. H. Fraser, Misses Mildred Kitchen, Adele George, Ruth Sheldon and Helen Penning.

MRS. SIMMS IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Dorothy Simms, 816 Sixth street, was the honored guest at a birthday party held recently at her home by a group of her high school friends. Supper was served by Mrs. J. H. Barley, mother of the honoree. Those attending the party were Misses Mabel Schultz, Margie Betheards, Beatrice and Aurora Silva, Grace Carlson, Inez Casselman, Lynne Siri, June Erskine and Dorothy Simms.

PARK AREAS INCREASED BY SERA IMPETUS

SAN FRANCISCO Feb. 20.—Scores of new state parks are springing up throughout the country, under the impetus of Emergency Conservation work, says Dayton E. Jones, SERA director of Civilian Conservation Corps.

During the past two years 500,000 acres of lands have been added to the state parks in 32 of the states. Texas leads the other states, contributing 248,474 acres of the increase, California is second with 28,683 acres.

In all, there is about 4,000,000 acres in state park lands, 2,000,000 acres of which is in one state—New York, where the Adirondack mountain state park is located. During the first work period, 105,000 acres were located on state park lands. This increase is 548 during the present period.

There are now approximately 70,000 men engaged in state park development work. Work in state park areas has been carried forward under the supervision of the State park division of the National Park Service and the park authorities of the various states.

The new state park division was established at the beginning of the CCC program to operate with the states in the development of a national system of state parks and small recreational centers.

Another Economic Crisis Is Predicted

SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—UP.—The 1929 economic crisis will not compare with that to come in 1949, Dr. Rudolph A. Clemen, president of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., averred today. "Lack of public leaders, due to influences of stagnated business and economic chaos of the present depression," will cause the 1949 crisis, he said.

Cops Stage Raid On Nude Girl Show

SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—UP.—Fourteen scantily covered girl dancers, six managers and men employees, projection machines and films and receipts of the show were in the hands of police today. Three thousand male spectators drawn to the hall by privately circulated advertisements, booed loudly at the morals squad interruption, but did not get back the $1.00 to $1.50 each paid for admittance.

AID OF MAYOR FOR S. D. FAIR IS REQUESTED

Mayor George F. Imbach is in receipt of Senate Concurrent Resolution, passed by the legislature, asking that publicity be given concerning the exposition to be held in San Diego, beginning May 29 of this year. It reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, The California Pacific International Exposition which will be held in San Diego, and which will open its gates on May 29, 1935, will be the first exposition of international significance to be held in this State since the World War; and

"WHEREAS, The California Pacific International Exposition is a nonprofit enterprise which will be a substantial recovery in the West; to illustrate the progress of man; to depict the past, the present and the future; to promote a new era of culture, beauty, science, history, the arts, and play; and

"WHEREAS, Many States of our Nation, and many foreign nations have recognized the California Pacific International Exposition by arranging for exhibits; and

"WHEREAS, The California Pacific International Exposition has thus already been advertised and publicized throughout the world; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereof concurring, That said Legislature add to the publicity already given the California Pacific International Exposition by this official recognition; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to send copies of this resolution to the governing bodies of the counties and cities of this State, with a request that the resolution be given by them to their local papers, so that this great exposition may be further publicized."

Railroad Rates Under Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—UP.—The Northwestern Pacific railroad was accused of "neglect and mismanagement" as a protest brief against proposed commute fare increases running as high as 67 per cent was filed with the railroad commission by three Marin county groups.

"The proposed increases are nothing short of barbarism," charged Marvellous Marin, Inc., and the communities of Belvedere and Tiburon.

Next step in the long fight will be submission of the railroad's financial argument, after which the commission will take the case under advisement.

B. P. W. Club Will Have Theater Party

Members of the Richmond Business and Professional Women's club will enjoy a social evening on Tuesday, Miss Virginia Griffiths, the president, announced yesterday.

The ladies of the club will enjoy dinner at an Oakland cafe and later will attend a theater. Reservations may be made by calling Miss Griffiths at Richmond 784.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

"You Can't Really Take All Your Troubles to Bed With You," Is Good Advice

A VAST number of questions are asked about discomforts suffered by various folks when they first go to bed. "Why does my heart throb in my neck?"

"What makes my legs and arms get so numb?" "Why should I have a roaring in my head on the side next to my pillow?" "Why should my toes cramp when I lie down?" "And why should people jump so violently when dozing off?"

His last complaint is frequently heard where two people sleep together and one just goes to sleep and the other suddenly jumps as if he were shot, waking both of them up completely. Maybe there isn't any real reason for any of these things, but they do happen and they are disturbing in when we do not want to be disturbed.

The hard pulse in the throat is due largely to the change in posture. Naturally, the organs have to assume another position when one lies down. The throat muscles can be relaxed by turning on the right side so that other organs do not crowd the heart by their own weight. This is particularly true if there is any great amount of fat to be considered. Besides, in the prone posture, the bed clothing provides a sound conductor, and other sounds being absent the sound of the heart throb is the more audible near the ear.

THE routine in the head in the ear, next the pillow is usually indicative of some artificial covering of the ear drum, such as hardened wax, or some collected dust, or fiber. Sometimes this is sufficient to shut out external sounds and make one think he is growing deaf.

Once the pillow covers the external ear, the sound of the circulating blood on the other side of the eardrum becomes more noticeable. There is often some inflammation which makes the tissues the more sensitive. Unless some disease exists, this discomfort is often relieved by ridding the eardrum of the foreign matter.

The matter of numbness in the legs and arms or cramps in the toes is related in general to failure to relax either the nerves or muscles. The circulation is restricted and numbness results. Nerves are under pressure and easily flexed muscles like those of the toes are drawn up. Obviously, the way to relief here is by changing the position, if necessary rubbing the numb areas or stretching the cramped muscles.

IN the same class is the tendency to jump as if sharply startled or falling. This happens, as a rule, just as one is drifting into sleep and is especially provoking.

My own guess is that when we fail to provide our own release to restricted and tensed nerves and muscles, the approach of unconsciousness in our first doze furnishes the relaxation. With the sense of relaxing comes also the sense of being let down or of actually falling.

As we are not yet really asleep the instinct of self-preservation leads us to jump sharply as if to catch ourselves and avoid the fall.

The remedy for all these disturbances must be both physical and mental. We need to spend more time and effort getting ready for rest. Just shedding our clothing and tumbling into bed won't answer.

As many signs of the day's experience must be removed as possible. Dust and grime in eyes and skin need to be removed. Harsh or roughened skin oiled, hair brushed, and aching joints rubbed. You must have a bed suited to your needs, a good mattress that fits the body. Fresh air through some source is necessary. After everything else, you can't help your troubles by taking them to bed with you.

LUBRICATION IS CHIEF NEED OF DRY TYPE SKIN

By JACQUELINE HUNT

AFTER the dry skin has been thoroughly cleaned and rinsed, it needs lubrication and stimulation. Dry skins are usually inactive skins, so massage to arouse the circulation and stimulating tonics are needed before there is any real improvement.

Apply a liberal film of rich, oily cream over the neck and face, and then beginning low on the neck, massage gently upward to the chin and jaw line. Pinch the muscles at the side of the neck and knead them gently.

Then beginning at the point of your chin, use little rotary movements out and upward along the jawline in the areas in front of the ears. Return to the chin, placing the fingertips an inch further up this time and repeat the massage upward and outward to the corners of the eyes.

Next begin at the corners of the lips where the little downward lines are apt to appear if you are constantly frowning. Have neglected this area. Massage lightly upward over the bridge of the nose and along the side of the nose. Massage down the nose and with little circles between the eyes.

Finally, "part your forehead in the middle," smoothing it from the center out to the temples in long strokes and lifting the tissue firmly but gently in a series of little steps from the eyebrows up to the hairline.

Apply more of the cream if the first application has been absorbed and leave it on while you finish your bedtime story. Before turning off the lights, however, wipe away any unabsorbed oil with cleansing tissues and splash the face with cold water or pat with a good skin tonic.

An occasional mask of not too drying materials, followed by a liberal application of cream, is stimulating and will help remove dead surface skin and smooth out tiny lines. Do not use a mask oftener than once a month, however.

Do not forget to use a foundation preparation before you go out into chilly, drying winds. Sometimes you can use a softening cream applied sparingly over your skin that has been moistened with cold water. Blend a soft, creamy rouge into the foundation and if your skin is still slightly damp wait a minute or two before dusting on your face powder.

Use a fine, clinging powder, dust it on liberally and remove the excess with a soft brush. Always leave a little cream around your eyes and use a very soft, oily lipstick that will prevent chapping. These two regions are especially sensitive if your skin belongs in the dry class. If the lips do chap, massage with pomade or lanoline before you retire at night.

Just as the oily skinned woman should avoid rich foods and fatty elimination, you should avoid a rich diet if your system is congested, undernourished, nervousness and fatigue.

Robert R. Williams, With the Aid of Pigeons and Rice, Has Succeeded in Producing Vitamin B In Pure State

EVERY so often a retiring type of man wins acclaim. This is the case with Robert R. Williams, a research chemist of Roselle, N. J. Mr. Williams, to the astonishment of the scientific world, has been able to isolate Vitamin B in sufficient quantities to make definite research of the element possible. He has succeeded in getting a sixth of an ounce out of a ton of white rice. To the layman this sounds like a small amount indeed, but to the scientist it is almost a miracle.

Dr. Williams' neighbors it was all very crazy stuff. Many years ago he was with the United States Bureau of Science in the Philippines. He saw a miracle in the cure of a sick child who ate only rice and "polishings." The child usually thrown away to the cattle. From then on he was interested in the outer rice layer, finding that it represented the B vitamin in its purest state. Moving back to the United States, in suburban New Jersey, Mr. Williams proceeded to experiment. He got a flock of QUESTION: "I have a medium complexion, brown hair and dark brown eyes. I would like some advice about evening make-up, especially eye shadow. I have tried blue shadow, and think it is becoming, but my friends say it should be used only by a blonde or blue-eyed person.—Nancy."

There is no set rule about eye shadow. Many brown-eyed women use blue eye shadow and the effect is natural and charming. However, you might experiment with the new bronze shadow, blue-green or green flecked with gold or silver. These are lovely evening shades especially becoming to the brown-eyed woman. I believe that a clear, bright red rouge and lipstick and a lighter shade of powder would look most enchanting for evening make-up.

QUESTION: "I buy the most expensive creams and tonics, muscle oils and so forth that are available, yet my skin is dry, wrinkled and sallow. Please tell me what else I can do.—M. H. G."

It is possible that you do not use the cosmetics properly. The care with which you massage is more important than the cream you use and your skin tonic will be twice as effective if it is thoroughly chilled. Health is more important still and you cannot expect a clear skin if your system is clogged with poisons or if you are ill.

The Clever Housewife Cooks Dessert Along With the Meal

By JUDITH WILSON

ONE of the tricks of fast economy is to plan a dessert that can be cooked along with the rest of your meal. If you serve a baked pudding, then a baked pudding, little cakes or a pie or gingerbread are in order. And when your dinner is cooked on the top of the stove, choose a dessert that can be prepared there or one that requires no cooking.

Many now not puddings are especially tempting. Here are recipes for puddings that are quick, easy to make, and as delicious as their baked counterparts.

Creamy Rice Pudding
Put three cups of water and one teaspoon salt in the inner part of a double boiler, set over direct heat and bring to a rapid boil. Sprinkle in one-half cup of washed rice and place the top over boiling water in the bottom of the double boiler. Cover and cook until the rice is tender. Beat two eggs well with three-fourths cup sweetened condensed milk and add to the rice. Add one-half cup raisins and continue cooking for ten minutes. Serve hot with cream if desired.

Magic Chocolate Pudding
Melt two squares unsweetened chocolate in a double boiler. Add one and one-third cups (one can) sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water until the mixture thickens. Add one cup water and beat with a rotary beater until smooth and cream. Fold in two cups bread cut into tiny cubes, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Serve hot with a whipped cream garnish. I like this dessert better if the bread cubes are toasted lightly and the dessert served immediately. Stale bread may also be substituted for bread cubes if you wish.

Prune-Apricot Whip
Wash one cup each prunes and dried apricots. Cook for ten minutes, drain and remove the pits. Put the fruits through a fine knife of the food chopper. Add five tablespoons powdered sugar, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, stir and cool. Whip one-half cups cream, fold the fruit mixture, heap into a bet glass and chill until set. Time: Crisp little sugar was stood upright around the sides. The sauce add appeal.

Orange-Mallow Cream
Cut one-half package mallow into quarters with scissors wet with cold water. Put a tiny bottle of maraschino cherries cut in halves and a little bit of the syrup, two cups orange pieces, freed from membrane and drained. Mix thoroughly and fold in one cup cream whipped and stiff. Put into sherbet glasses and chill thoroughly. Marshmallows and drained canned apricots halves make another interesting chilled dessert. Mix and chill to

New York—Let's give a cheer for the cape which is interlined, and so can be reversed.

That's what we call a priceless boon to womankind, for it's a fashion for the seven ages of women, and besides it's one that is adopted for sports as well as for evening usage. The obvious expression of the idea is that it should be plain on one side and figured on the other. Dots are better for most purposes, and stripes, plaids and checks line up as appropriate for this hide-and-seek arrangement. Tweed capes of intermediate length, smartly tailored and attractively lined, are very sporting.

Sketched today are a group of new shoes.

At the upper right, sandal gills in curvilinear sacking in pastels of dark colors.

At the left, the low heeled sandal in blue and white, in suede with kidskin, the latter intricately worked in strippings and wide T strap.

At the lower right, sandal in white or bright color morocco leather with a flange decoration on the side and a little pull-through tie to close it.

Just above this a novelty sports type in blue and red suede and other bold contrasts such as green with brown.

At right of the column, spun viscose makes this brother and sister suit, the jersey of which is in self-color check design to contrast with the plain skirt and knickers.

Jaunty-looking white stripes appear against a solid colored ground in this brother and sister model with crew neck and button shoulders.

Short Cuts

Many a day's washing has been ruined by a dirty clothes line. You can wash your clothes line the same as your clothes. Just loop together and place in wash boiler for about ten minutes. By the end of this time, the dirt will have boiled out, then there is only to rinse it in clear water to have it come out perfectly clean.

Serve dumplings with beef stew. The following recipe serves six. Sift together one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder and half a teaspoon salt. Add half a cup of milk gradually, and mix to a soft dough. Drop into stew by the spoonful and cook for five minutes in a covered pot.

Break a package of dry mince meat into pieces, add one-half cup of cold water, place over low heat and stir until the lumps are broken up, then boil rapidly until most of the water has evaporated. Add one tablespoon rum and enough orange juice or fruit syrup to make a sauce of the right consistency. Serve over slices of plain cake or sponge cake. Stale cake may be used but you should warm and freshen in the top of a double boiler. Sprinkle with a few drops water and cover tightly.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "When my little girl was learning to talk she began by calling the maid 'Lala.' Her name is Leona. Now every one calls her Lala, including myself.—Mrs. N. B."

ANSWER: A mistress should not call her maid by a nickname. The relationship should be kept on a dignified plane. Many parents make the same mistake. They copy infantile manners of speech and make it a habit, instead of setting the correct example for the child and giving him a chance to learn proper forms of address.

QUESTION: "In a crowded train recently I arose to give my seat to an old, stoop-shouldered man. He refused it, to my great embarrassment. Is it then wrong for a young woman to give up her seat to an old man?"—A. M. B."

ANSWER: He did the polite thing. Unfortunately for you, this particular old man seems to have been unduly sensitive about his age, infirmity, or both. You cannot blame him entirely. When a man respects women it sometimes is a blow to his pride to have them recognize his helplessness and cater to him.

You and Your Child

AUNTY PREFERS THAT CHILDREN ACT NATURALLY

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

THE doorbell rang. Mother bolted out of her seat. "Now, children," she warned between fussing with Tommy's tie and hurriedly adjusting Martha's curls, "that's Aunt Agatha. Remember what I have told you about your manners. You, Martha, are to kiss Aunt Agatha. And you, Tommy, are to walk up to her like a little man and shake her hand."

Aunt Agatha, a kindly old lady came bustling into the room. She saw the children and smiled broadly. "The is very fond of them and has hinted that she means to make them her heirs. Instead of greeting aunts as they generally do, with whoops of gladness, the children were unnaturally subdued. Aunt's "Hello, Martha," brought the little girl to her arms, but she turned her head away. Evidently the child was appealing to her mother.

Aunt followed her gaze and observed mother painfully going through the motions of saying, "Kiss her." Aunt released the child. "She doesn't have to kiss if she doesn't want to," she remarked. Meantime Tommy had come forward. He stood beside his aunt, swinging his right arm, as if practicing in anticipation of his cue. "Hello, Tommy dear," Aunt put her arm around him, but the boy drew away. At this point, mother came to the rescue. Laughing nervously, she said, "He wants to shake hands, don't you Tommy?" Tommy scowled.

"Of course he doesn't. Anyone can see that." As Tommy looked troubled aunt hastened to add, "And I don't say that I blame him. It is almost time to start saying goodbye and we haven't finished saying hello. Run along and play, dear." Tommy looked back at his aunt gratefully he went.

"And now that we are alone, my dear," aunt told mother, "I can sense from the children's actions what you have been up to. Please don't do it again. Children who are brought up right do not need company manners. They are sincere, charming, natural, poised. Why cramp their style?"

GINGER'S NEW DRESS

Striking in material and motif is this fascinating tunic dress worn by Ginger Rogers, of the films. The fabric is navy blue taffeta with white polka dots. The suit is closely fitted at the hip and skirt, and cut with deep raglan sleeves which are turned back at three-quarter length to form deep cuffs. The wide ruching is made of self material, cut on the bias and fringed at the edges. Three rows are used on the tunic, another row forms the Peter collar, and the same ruching is used on the navy blue straw hat. A blue velvet bow is caught in the neck ruff, and velvet ribbon carelessly knotted, forms the bow. Navy blue suede was selected for bag and gloves, and matching kid for the pumps.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

Those Women Who Are Not Adapted to the Kitchen Should Be Put on Other Jobs

DO WOMEN really resent the back-to-the-home movement? Or do they actually prefer domesticity to a career? You are probably not prepared to call domesticity a career.

There has been considerable uproar in the press and elsewhere over the idea of Big Business crowding women out and forcing them to remain at home.

Germany's MRS. MARTIN broadcast to the world that women were needed in the kitchen, and that the outside world could get along better without them. Sympathetic women in this and other countries felt that she was being discriminated against. But now it seems that Nazi women much prefer being at home. So says the President of the Nazi organization (feminist branch), Frau Schoelitz-Klink, in a recent interview.

"One reason why so many women have found work outside their homes in recent years," Frau Schoelitz-Klink is quoted as saying, "is that the old movement for the emancipation of women gave them the idea that it was somehow more creditable to have a job than to keep house. The idea is entirely mistaken."

"All jobs, including those of the housewife and domestic servant, call for and develop character. For this reason all jobs are creditable and honorable. It is no more creditable to a woman to be secretary or stenographer or teacher than it is to be a housemaid."

Is she right we wonder? LEAVING all questions of women's rights and movements of one sort or another out of the question, it does appear that the only sensible way for a woman to determine her life work is by her capabilities and opportunities.

A woman with a strong domestic bent usually finds an outlet for it. Some home-loving man senses this in her and marries her before she knows what's really happening. Providing that he makes sufficient money to keep the home fires burning, she is usually content to remain at home, since in it she finds such means as are best suited to the expression of her personality.

Women who abhor kitchens usually find a way to side-step them. They either are so poor as to be unable to keep house, or they have a hand to release her from these chores, or else they themselves give up in something akin to desperation.

Because a woman refuses point blank to do housework, the housework does not necessarily mean that she considers such work beneath her. She may, in fact, consider it quite beyond her and so refuse to undertake a job for which she knows full well she has no talent or aptitude. If such a woman is thoroughly capable in some other line of work it seems a shame to force her to continue with work for which she is totally unfitted. The executive world admits that square pegs in round holes are a waste. Just why should this theory cease to hold good once it is applied to housework?

GERMAN women have a reputation for being the "hausfrau" type, so it is easy enough to believe that there is no great hardship for them to be consigned to kitchen police. It might be a great hardship for women of other types and nationalities.

As for the kind of work women should do, Frau Schoelitz-Klink believes that in general the tasks of the home are more valuable than those of the outside world. Therefore the policy of the regime is to help German women establish homes of their own, or, if this is impossible, to encourage them to work as domestic servants.

The chief difference between the Nazi women's movement and those that preceded it is that the latter movements fought for abstract equality with men in all fields, whereas the Nazis seek to secure equal opportunities for women in those activities to which women are adapted. Frau Schoelitz-Klink declared. Women should so think they had to do the things as men. Now they are taught to do other things which they do just as well as men and not try to compete with men in men's own special spheres. Sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

DIVINING RODS

BECAUSE OF THE ANCIENT BELIEF THAT A SPIRIT DWELT IN EVERY TREE AND TOOK ITS SUSTENANCE FROM THE GROUND, PEOPLE SUPPOSED THAT BY MUTTERING INCANTATIONS OVER A FORKED STICK, THAT STICK IN SYMPATHY WITH THE SPIRITS OF THE EARTH WOULD POINT TO BURIED TREASURE. THESE RODS ARE STILL USED.

IMITATION GEMS

THE EGYPTIANS WERE THE FIRST TO DISCOVER THE ART OF IMITATING PRECIOUS GEMS BY CHEMISTRY AND THEIR EARLY FORMULAS FURNISHED THE BASIS FOR ALL CHEAP STONES OF LATER AGES.
